Abstrak

The purpose of this research is to acquire an objective and comprehensive information about the implementation of Islam religion teaching and learning process for special school for special care children. Result of the research finds that special schools have done Islam religion teaching learning process so far besides, it has found that most of the teachers of Islam religion at special school (SLB) are not teachers with the qualification of Islam religion background (PGA and Tarbiyah) teacher training. But with the background of special school teacher training background (SGPLB and LPTK PLB). The teaching learning process PAI at special school generally runs normatively. The efforts to supervise and develop the competence and profession of Islam religion teacher at special school are still considered insufficient, got in its supervision and its control. Those who are supposed to be involved supervising the teacher of Islam religion at special schools are department of religion, department of National education (provincial office) and controllers on the executors in the field, have not played optimal role yet.
