

The Bulletin of the Center for International Education

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20272797&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

ABSTRAK

This paper compares the fortunes of the Japan Socialist Party and the British Labour Party during a crucial period in both party's histories. The key question being addressed is why two parties that were so similar at the start of this period should have had such a marked divergence in their electoral achievements as the second half of this period progressed.