

The relationship between frequency of visits, feeling of hopelessness, and suicidal behavior in female inmates: Study in Pondok Bambu correctional facility

Ratih Larasati, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20285551&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

ABSTRAK

Skripsi ini meneliti hubungan frekuensi kunjungan, perasaan keputusasaan, dan perilaku bunuh diri pada narapidana wanita di rumah tahanan Pondok Bambu. Penelitian ini menggunakan metode penelitian kuantitatif, dengan menggunakan tiga skala pengukuran utama yaitu Beck Hopelessness Scale, Suicidal Behavior Scale, dan Frequency of Visits Scale. Subyek penelitian adalah 130 narapidana wanita di rumah tahanan Pondok Bambu. Hasil penelitian menemukan bahwa, ada hubungan yang signifikan antara frekuensi kunjungan sebagai bentuk dukungan sosial dengan perasaan keputusasaan, dan perilaku bunuh diri. Selain itu juga ditemukan hubungan yang signifikan antara perasaan keputusasaan dengan perilaku bunuh diri. Akan tetapi, tidak ditemukan pengaruh yang signifikan dari frekuensi kunjungan pada hubungan antara perasaan keputusasaan dan perilaku bunuh diri.

ABSTRACT

This study explores the relationship between frequency of visits, feelings of hopelessness, and suicidal behavior among female inmates in Pondok Bambu correctional facility. The study uses quantitative research method, with three main measurement scales: Beck Hopelessness Scale, Suicidal Behavior Scale, dan Frequency of Visits Scale. The subjects in this research are 130 female inmates in Pondok Bambu Correctional facility. This study found a significant correlation between frequency of visits as a form of social support and feelings of hopelessness, and also with suicidal behavior. Moreover, this study also found that feelings of hopelessness have a significant relationship with suicidal behavior. However, this study found no significant effect of frequency of visits on the relationship between feelings of hopelessness and suicidal behavior.