

Mahkamah konstitusi dan penegakan hukum dan HAM di Indonesia

Mutiara Hikmah, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20298018&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

Indonesian Constitutional Court under law number 24 year 2003 is obliged as constitutional watchers and human rights enforcement. The principle is coming from the constitution designations it self as the political documents which protects toward people human rights. Idea through Constitutional Court establishing is as advanced of modern 's state and legal thought since 20th century. This article is embarked on two essential roles of constitution to control towards power in the state organizations and to formulate protection through basic rights of citizens and whole human rights. So that, the role of Constitutional Court is correlated to their significances position as human rights enforcer in the .scope of "norms control". It is reflected on their roles in judicial and constitutional reviewers that does not untied from the normative 's messages on universality of human rights.