Abstrak

Tesis ini membahas mengenai perilaku brand switching konsumen dalam pembelian produk pelembab wajah. Penelitian ini menggunakan metode survei (kuesioner) yang dilakukan terhadap konsumen pengguna produk pelembab wajah dan pernah melakukan perpindahan merek. Teknik sampling yang digunakan adalah nonprobability sampling yaitu menggunakan snowball sampling. Metode analisis data adalah dengan menggunakan structural equation modeling dengan LISREL 8.70. Hasil dari penelitian ini menunjukkan bahwa influence primary berpengaruh positif terhadap self-concept. Self-concept berpengaruh positif terhadap keputusan konsumen dalam melakukan pembelian produk pelembab wajah. Brand image berpengaruh terhadap keputusan konsumen dalam melakukan pembelian produk pelembab wajah. Ketidaksesuaian antara self-concept dan brand image dapat berpengaruh terhadap keputusan konsumen untuk melakukan brand switching untuk produk pelembab wajah. Influence of primary dapat berpengaruh terhadap health concern. Health concern berpengaruh terhadap perceived quality. Perceived quality yang buruk berpengaruh terhadap terjadinya ketidakpuasan konsumen, dan dissatisfaction dapat berpengaruh terhadap keputusan konsumen untuk melakukan brand switching.
