

Nasionalisme dan identitas kebangsaan komunitas perbatasan studi kasus pada komunitas desa sebunga sajingan besar kabupaten sambas kalimantan barat = Nationalism and national identity of border community a case study on border community of sebunga sajingan besar district of sambas west kalimantan

Aris Munandar, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20364573&lokasi=lokal>

---

Abstrak

[ABSTRAK

Disertasi ini membahas tentang dinamika interaksi antara negara dan masyarakat dalam proses formasi nasionalisme dan identitas kebangsaan pada komunitas perbatasan Indonesia-Malaysia di desa Sebunga-Sajingan Besar, Kabupaten Sambas-Kalimantan Barat. Pendekatan pokok penelitian ini adalah kualitatif dengan ragam studi kasus, yang dilengkapi dengan survey. Hasil penelitian menjelaskan bahwa gagasan nasionalisme dan identitas kebangsaan tidak bersifat baku dan final. Secara dinamis, dimaknai dan dikonstruksikan melalui negosiasi, kontestasi, dominasi, dan kompromi antara negara dan masyarakat lokal, dalam kurun waktu yang panjang, sejak kemerdekaan hingga era reformasi, dan dalam kerangka kepentingan politik, ekonomi, dan sosio-kultural.

<hr>

ABSTRAK

The focus of this study is the dynamics of the interaction between state and society in the process of formation of nationalism and national identity in the Indonesia-Malaysia border community in the village of Sebunga-Sajingan Besar, Sambas ? West Kalimantan. The main approach of this research is qualitative with case studies design, which are equipped with the survey. The results explain that the idea of nationalism and national identity are not fixed and final. Dynamically, interpreted and constructed through negotiation, contestation, domination, and a compromise between the state and local communities, in a long period of time, since independence until the reform era, and within the framework of political, economic, and socio-cultural.;The focus of this study is the dynamics of the interaction between state and society in the process of formation of nationalism and national identity in the Indonesia-Malaysia border community in the village of Sebunga-Sajingan Besar, Sambas ? West Kalimantan. The main approach of this research is qualitative with case studies design, which are equipped with the survey. The results explain that the idea of nationalism and national identity are not fixed and final. Dynamically, interpreted and constructed through negotiation, contestation, domination, and a compromise between the state and local communities, in a long period of time, since independence until the reform era, and within the framework of political, economic, and socio-cultural., The focus of this study is the dynamics of the interaction between state and society in the process of formation of nationalism and national identity in the Indonesia-Malaysia border community in the village of Sebunga-Sajingan Besar, Sambas – West Kalimantan. The main approach of this research is qualitative with case studies design, which are equipped with the survey. The results explain that the idea of nationalism and national identity are not fixed and final. Dynamically, interpreted and constructed through negotiation, contestation, domination, and a compromise between the state and local communities, in a long period of time, since independence until the reform era, and within the framework of political, economic, and socio-cultural.]