[ABSTRAK

Skripsi ini didasarkan pada penelitian sosio-legal mengenai akses terhadap keadilan dalam bidang perlindungan anak, dengan fokus kelompok pengemis anak di Kampung Rawa Dulang, Bogor, Jawa Barat. Akses terhadap keadilan sendiri dibangun dari empat pilar; dalam penelitian ini, pilar yang dikaji adalah peraturan perundang-undangan yang menjamin keadilan dan pengetahuan hukum. Peraturan perundang-undangan yang digunakan adalah instrumen hukum perlindungan anak. Hasil penelitian memberikan simpulan bahwa Indonesia belum dapat memenuhi keadilan warga negaranya untuk melindungi hak anak atas eksploitasi ekonomi yang terjadi di kampung tersebut.

ABSTRACT

This thesis is based on a socio-legal research about access to justice in the field of child protection, which is focused on the case of child beggars in Rawa Dulang, Bogor, West Java. The access to justice consists of four pillars; on this research, the pillars reviewed are laws that guarantee justice and the knowledge of law. The laws used and examined are child protection laws. The result of this research suggests that Indonesia has not been able to fulfill the citizen's need of justice, which is to protect child's rights of economic exploitation that occurs in the said village.;This thesis is based on a socio-legal research about access to justice in the field of child protection, which is focused on the case of child beggars in Rawa Dulang, Bogor, West Java.
