

Akulturası budaya dan modal sosial masyarakat muslim dengan masyarakat hindu di Kampung Kecıcang Kecamatan Bebandem Karangasem Bali = Acculturation cultural and social capital muslim community with hindu community in the Village Kecıcang sub District Bebandem Karangasem Regency Bali

Sugihanto Rahim, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20389425&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

[ABSTRAK

Mayoritas penduduk Bali merupakan pemeluk agama Hindu. Nuansa Hindu teramat sangat kental dirasakan ketika mengunjungi pulau Bali yang juga dinamakan pulau seribu Pura ini, namun dibalik kentalnya nuansa tersebut, terdapat beberapa kampung Islam yang berkembang di Pulau Seribu Pura ini, meskipun hanya menjadi penduduk mayoritas kedua, namun keberadaan umat Islam di Bali dapat menghadirkan keragaman bagi pulau Dewata ini. Penelitian ini dilaksanakan Di Kampung Kecıcang Kecamatan Bebandem Karangasem Bali bertujuan untuk mengetahui sejauh mana Proses Akulturası Budaya dan Modal Sosial antara masyarakat minoritas muslim dengan masyarakat mayoritas Hindu di kampung Kecıcang Islam dalam mengantisipasi dan meredam potensi-potensi konflik yang kerap muncul di kedua belah pihak sehingga tidak menjadi konflik terbuka serta apa saja yang menjadi faktor pendukung dan penghambat dalam proses Akulturası Budaya dan Modal Sosial ini, Penelitian ini dilaksanakan dengan menggunakan metode kualitatif dengan pendekatan fenomenologi, dalam Akulturası budaya dan modal sosial antara masyarakat Muslim dan Hindu di Kampung Kecıcang sudah terbentuk dengan baik dan kuat dan telah memiliki landasan yang kuat, baik secara historis maupun empiris atas dasar ini segala potensi-potensi konflik dapat diatasi bersama sebelum menjadi konflik terbuka.

<hr>

ABSTRACT

The majority of the population of Bali is Hindu. Nuance Hindu is very thick felt when visiting the island of Bali which is also called the island of a thousand temples, but behind these nuances, there are several Muslim villages that developed in the Island of Thousand Temples, although only the second majority population, but the presence of Muslims in Bali bring diversity to the resort island. This research was conducted in the village of Kecıcang District of Bebandem Karangasem Bali aims to determine the extent of Acculturation Process Cultural and Social Capital among Muslim minority communities with the majority Hindu community in the village Kecıcang Islam in anticipating and mitigating potential conflicts that often arise on both sides so it does not into open conflict as well as any supporting factors and obstacles in the process of Acculturation Culture and Social Capital, the research was conducted using qualitative methods with a phenomenological approach, in acculturation and social capital between Muslim and Hindu in the village is well established Kecıcang and strong and has a solid foundation, both historically and empirically on the basis of these all potential conflicts can be resolved before an open conflict with

;The majority of the population of Bali is Hindu. Nuance Hindu is very thick felt when visiting the island of Bali which is also called the island of a thousand temples, but behind these nuances, there are several Muslim villages that developed in the Island of Thousand Temples, although only the second majority population, but the presence of Muslims in Bali bring diversity to the resort island. This research was conducted in the village of Kecicang District of Bebandem Karangasem Bali aims to determine the extent of Acculturation Process Cultural and Social Capital among Muslim minority communities with the majority Hindu community in the village Kecicang Islam in anticipating and mitigating potential conflicts that often arise on both sides so it does not into open conflict as well as any supporting factors and obstacles in the process of Acculturation Culture and Social Capital, the research was conducted using qualitative methods with a phenomenological approach, in acculturation and social capital between Muslim and Hindu in the village is well established Kecicang and strong and has a solid foundation, both historically and empirically on the basis of these all potential conflicts can be resolved before an open conflict with

, The majority of the population of Bali is Hindu. Nuance Hindu is very thick felt when visiting the island of Bali which is also called the island of a thousand temples, but behind these nuances, there are several Muslim villages that developed in the Island of Thousand Temples, although only the second majority population, but the presence of Muslims in Bali bring diversity to the resort island. This research was conducted in the village of Kecicang District of Bebandem Karangasem Bali aims to determine the extent of Acculturation Process Cultural and Social Capital among Muslim minority communities with the majority Hindu community in the village Kecicang Islam in anticipating and mitigating potential conflicts that often arise on both sides so it does not into open conflict as well as any supporting factors and obstacles in the process of Acculturation Culture and Social Capital, the research was conducted using qualitative methods with a phenomenological approach, in acculturation and social capital between Muslim and Hindu in the village is well established Kecicang and strong and has a solid foundation, both historically and empirically on the basis of these all potential conflicts can be resolved before an open conflict with

]