[ABSTRAK

Kebijakan perluasan perdagangan dan kerjasama energi Rusia dengan China, merupakan langkah baru bagi pemerintahan Putin yang selama ini menjadikan Barat (Uni Eropa) menjadi mitra utama. Dengan menggunakan energi sebagai alat kebijakan ekonomi luar negerinya, Putin merancang ulang langkah kepentingan dan tujuan negara yang hendak dicapai Rusia. Isu-isu dalam ekonomi, politik, hingga keamanan turut mempengaruhi terwujudnya peningkatan kemitraan Rusia dengan China dimasa kini. Sementara itu hubungan Rusia dengan UE tidak dapat disampingkan begitu saja karena hubungan interdependensi keduanya masih cukup kuat. Walaupun demikian pilihan strategis yang diambil Rusia saat ini menunjukkan peningkatan hubungan dengan China dalam bidang energi;

ABSTRACT

Russia's trade expansion and energy cooperation policies with China are considered as novel steps in Putin's government which has thus far rendered the West (European Union) as key partner. By employing energy as means in its economic foreign policy, Putin renovates the state's interest and objective aimed to be attained. Economic, politic, as well as security issues also influence the realization of enhanced Russia's partnership with China. Meanwhile Russia's relation with EU cannot be disregarded as the interdependency between the two entities is still intense. Nevertheless, Russia's current strategic decision enhances its relation with China in the sphere of energy.;Russia's trade expansion and energy cooperation policies with China are considered as novel steps in Putin's government which has thus far rendered the West (European Union) as key partner.
