ABSTRACT

Interjections are words describing emotions of the speaker and imitation of sounds.

There are many kinds of interjection which are typical certain animals, that one must look at the context of the dialogue to understand it. By understanding the dialogue's context, we can identify what kind of interjection that is used. This research is a quantitative research that explicates which interjections are mostly used in Donald Duck comic strips. As the result, the most used interjection is unavoidable emotional interjection., Interjections are words describing emotions of the speaker and imitation of sounds.
