Methods: The assessment was based on qualitative approach in 3 provinces: Bali (Denpasar and Tabanan), West Java (Bandung District) and Central Java (Semarang and Kendal). The data collection by in depath interview and round table discussion (RTD). Health wrokers who perform complementary alternative care, SDK Head of Provincial Health Office and District/ City as well as associations or professional organizations as information resources. data analysing was done by triangulasi and and content analysis. Result: The result shown MOH regulation no. 1190 in the year 2007, interpreted differently by provinial Health Office. In the most provinces have not even been implemented. The Professional organization did not have any college to access the competence of its members, health personnel licensing requirement more difficult than traditional healers. In adition, many professional organizations which have not been officially recognized standart of competence and have not had, and still there are associations that have not been accredited. So that the recommendations given in the framework of the licensing of health workers accountable difficult. Rekomendasi: Minister Regulation No. 1076 of 2003 needs to be revised to be able to distinguish clearly the competence and authority of traditional healers and health workers who practice acupunture. In addition, people can asily distinguish the difference between traditional health and complementary alternatives, including the capabilities of both.
