

Globalisasi informasi dan perubahan politik dan administrasi pemerintahan Indonesia pasca orde baru = Globalization of information and the changes of post new order political and government administration

Silalahi, Ulber, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20406476&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

The globalization of information in the early 21 st century has made the country, government and the world community closer and connected quickly. The world has become borderless, so what's happening in the world's first and second world will soon be known to the third world. Moreover globalization of information makes a success of democratization and decentralization in the country and the decentralization encourage democratization in other countries, including indonesia.

This study aims to explain the impact of globalization on the political administration of government informantion post-new order indonesia. the method used is descriptive, qualitative study of literature. The findings suggest that the globalization of information have changed the political admnistration post-new order indonesia become more democratic and decentralized. Visible indication of democratization elections (preidential and legislative elections as well as representatives) and local elections (local elections and local legislative members) and governance base on good governance, while decentralization seems indicative of an increase of area and district and city up to 69.6 with the details of the province increased 26,9, the district 76,8 , the city government increased 60,3 %.This increase will impact in the improvement of government management,public service management and welfare citizens.