Abstrak

After the loss of Sipadan and Ligitan Islands, the possibility of losing outer islands will take a full concern throughout the nation. It can be a potential threat at the same time, thus the outer islands should get special attention and supervision to prevent problems that may interfere the integrity of Indonesia. The problem exists such as 1) lack of conclusive legal issues with bordering countries, 2) the unsynchronised role and activities of government agencies, 3) a relatively high cost to create the level of presence of security forces especially on uninhabited islands, 4) the ineffective usage of IT.
