[ABSTRAK

Berhuni merupakan salah satu hal sering dibahas dalam arsitektur. Berhuni juga kerap dimaknai sekadar mendapatkan tempat tinggal atau rumah secara fisik. Fenomena ini memunculkan adanya pandangan bahwa arsitekturlah yang menciptakan makna berhuni. Padahal, berhuni menurut setiap orang akan berbeda-beda karena prosesnya yang terus berlanjut. Salah satu esensi proses seperti pada lipatan (the fold), yaitu bukan untuk diselesaikan melainkan dilanjutkan. Dalam skripsi ini akan dibahas lebih lanjut tentang makna berhuni sebagai proses, yang ruang lingkungannya bukan hanya pada rumah. Dari hasil analisa tinjauan pustaka dan studi kasus, berhuni sebagai proses juga melingkupi ruang publik, yang dapat mempengaruhi penghuni yang tinggal di sekitar ruang publik tersebut.

ABSTRACT

;Dwelling is one of the matters which can not be separated with architecture. Dwelling is often interpreted simply as getting a residence or home physically. This phenomenon leads to the view that architecture creates the meaning of dwelling. Whereas, dwelling will be various according to each person because the process continues. One of the essences of the process is the fold, which is not to be completed, but continued. In this thesis will be discussed further on the meaning of dwelling as a process that the scope is not only at home. From the analysis of literature and case study, dwelling as the process also encompasses an urban public space, which can affect dwellers around the public space., Dwelling is one of the matters which can not be separated with architecture.
