

Perempuan sebagai kurir dalam peredaran gelap narkoba = Women as courier in the illicit trafficking of narcotics / Rotua Sihotang

Sihotang, Rotua, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20415280&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

[ABSTRAK

Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk mendeskripsikan keterlibatan perempuan sebagai kurir dalam peredaran gelap narkoba serta mengidentifikasi faktor-faktor yang mendorong perempuan terlibat sebagai kurir dalam peredaran gelap narkoba.

Penelitian ini menggunakan metode kualitatif yang mengandalkan analisis data deskriptif yang diperoleh melalui hasil wawancara yang mendalam dengan 8 (delapan) informan perempuan dari beberapa tempat yaitu : di Lembaga Pemasyarakatan Klas IIA Wanita Tangerang, Banten, Rumah Tahanan (Rutan) Klas IIA Wanita Jakarta Timur, Rutan Direktorat Tindak Pidana Narkoba Bareskrim Polri dan Rutan Badan Narkoba Nasional. Data juga diperoleh dengan pengamatan dan studi kepustakaan.

Keterlibatan perempuan dalam peredaran gelap narkoba, seperti diketahui bahwa perempuan memiliki peranan yang tidak dapat diabaikan begitu saja, karena banyaknya peranan perempuan baik didalam keluarga serta dalam kehidupan ekonomi, sosial, kebudayaan, pendidikan, politik dan agama.

Kedudukan perempuan sangat strategis didalam keluarga, khususnya dalam membentuk pribadi-pribadi yang militan, kekuatan seorang perempuan bukan hanya mengubah hidup keluarganya, melainkan juga mengubah sebuah bangsa atau bahkan dunia. Namun kenyataan yang terjadi di lapangan, banyak perempuan yang terlibat dalam peredaran gelap narkoba sebagai kurir.

Perempuan sebagai kurir tidak serta merta terjadi, ada sindikat narkoba yang mengendalikan perempuan dengan berbagai modus, ada karena ketidaktahuan mereka, ketergantungan kepada laki-laki yang mempunyai hubungan dengan perempuan sebagai suami atau pacar, ada juga karena dititipi barang narkoba. Perempuan terlibat tanpa mengetahui resiko atas tindakannya dan berakhir dalam hukuman di Lembaga Pemasyarakatan.

<hr>

ABSTRACT

This study aimed to describe the involvement of women as couriers in the illicit trafficking of narcotics as well as to identify factors that encourage women to get involved as a courier in the illicit trafficking of narcotics.

This study used a qualitative method that relies on the analysis of descriptive data obtained through in-depth interviews with 8 (eight) female informant from several places, namely: The Women's Penitentiary Institution Class IIA Tangerang, Banten, House of Detention Class IIA Women East Jakarta; House of Detention of Crime Narcotics Directorate of Criminal Investigation Police and the House of Detention of National Narcotics Board. Data were also obtained by the observation and study of literature.

Women's involvement in the illicit traffic in narcotics, as is well known that women have a role that can not be ignored, because of the role of women both within families and in economic life, social, cultural, educational, political and religious. Strategic position of women within the family, especially in the form of militant individuals, the power of a woman not only changed the lives of her family, but also transform a nation or even the world. But the fact is happening on the ground, many women are involved in the illicit trafficking of narcotics as a courier.

Women as couriers is not necessarily the case, there are narcotics syndicates that control women with a variety of modes, there because of their ignorance, dependence on a man who has little relationship with the woman as husband or boyfriend, there's also because the goods entrusted narcotics. Women involved without knowing the risks of his actions and ended in penalties in the Penitentiary; This study aimed to describe the involvement of women as couriers in the illicit trafficking of narcotics as well as well as to identify factors that encourage women to get involved as a courier in the illicit trafficking of narcotics.

This study used a qualitative method that relies on the analysis of descriptive data obtained through in-depth interviews with 8 (eight) female informant from several places, namely: The Women's Penitentiary Institution Class IIA Tangerang, Banten, House of Detention Class IIA Women East Jakarta; House of Detention of Crime Narcotics Directorate of Criminal Investigation Police and the House of Detention of National Narcotics Board. Data were also obtained by the observation and study of literature.

Women's involvement in the illicit traffic in narcotics, as is well known that women have a role that can not be ignored, because of the role of women both within families and in economic life, social, cultural, educational, political and religious. Strategic position of women within the family, especially in the form of militant individuals, the power of a woman not only changed the lives of her family, but also transform a nation or even the world. But the fact is happening on the ground, many women are involved in the illicit trafficking of narcotics as a courier.

Women as couriers is not necessarily the case, there are narcotics syndicates that control women with a variety of modes, there because of their ignorance, dependence on a man who has little relationship with the woman as husband or boyfriend, there's also because the goods entrusted narcotics. Women involved without knowing the risks of his actions and ended in penalties in the Penitentiary; This study aimed to describe the involvement of women as couriers in the illicit trafficking of narcotics as well as to identify factors that encourage women to get involved as a courier in the illicit trafficking of narcotics.

This study used a qualitative method that relies on the analysis of descriptive data obtained through in-depth interviews with 8 (eight) female informant from several places, namely: The Women's Penitentiary Institution Class IIA Tangerang, Banten, House of Detention Class IIA Women East Jakarta; House of Detention of Crime Narcotics Directorate of Criminal Investigation Police and the House of Detention of National Narcotics Board. Data were also obtained by the observation and study of literature.

Women's involvement in the illicit traffic in narcotics, as is well known that women have a role that can not be ignored, because of the role of women both within families and in economic life, social, cultural, educational, political and religious. Strategic position of women within the family, especially in the form of militant individuals, the power of a woman not only changed the lives of her family, but also transform a nation or even the world. But the fact is happening on the ground, many women are involved in the illicit trafficking of narcotics as a courier.

Women as couriers is not necessarily the case, there are narcotics syndicates that control women with a variety of modes, there because of their ignorance, dependence on a man who has little relationship with the woman as husband or boyfriend, there's also because the goods entrusted narcotics. Women involved without knowing the risks of his actions and ended in penalties in the Penitentiary, This study aimed to describe the involvement of women as couriers in the illicit trafficking of narcotics as well as to identify factors that encourage women to get involved as a courier in the illicit trafficking of narcotics.

This study used a qualitative method that relies on the analysis of descriptive data obtained through in-depth interviews with 8 (eight) female informant from several places, namely: The Women's Penitentiary Institution Class IIA Tangerang, Banten, House of Detention Class IIA Women East Jakarta; House of Detention of Crime Narcotics Directorate of Criminal Investigation Police and the House of Detention of National Narcotics Board. Data were also obtained by the observation and study of literature.

Women's involvement in the illicit traffic in narcotics, as is well known that women have a role that can not be ignored, because of the role of women both within families and in economic life, social, cultural, educational, political and religious. Strategic position of women within the family, especially in the form of militant individuals, the power of a woman not only changed the lives of her family, but also transform a nation or even the world. But the fact is happening on the ground, many women are involved in the illicit trafficking of narcotics as a courier.

Women as couriers is not necessarily the case, there are narcotics syndicates that control women with a variety of modes, there because of their ignorance, dependence on a man who has little relationship with the woman as husband or boyfriend, there's also because the goods entrusted narcotics. Women involved without knowing the risks of his actions and ended in penalties in the Penitentiary]