

Determinan kesediaan dokter gigi sebagai pemberi pelayanan kesehatan tingkat pertama dalam jaminan kesehatan nasional kajian pada dokter gigi di Kota Makassar = Determinants of dentist willingness to become the first health care provider in national health insurance : study amongst dentists in Makassar / Ilmianti

Ilmianti, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20415405&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

[ABSTRAK

Latar Belakang: Jaminan kesehatan Nasional mempermudah masyarakat untuk mengakses dan mendapatkan pelayanan kesehatan bermutu termasuk kesehatan gigi. Dokter gigi sebagai pemberi pelayanan kesehatan tingkat pertama diharapkan berpartisipasi dalam mendukung Program Jaminan Kesehatan Nasional. Tujuan: Diperolehnya pemahaman determinan kesediaan dokter gigi sebagai pemberi pelayanan kesehatan dalam Jaminan Kesehatan Nasional. Metode: Penelitian Cross Sectional terhadap dokter gigi praktek swasta menggunakan kuesioner. Data dianalisis menggunakan uji chi square dan regresi logistik. Simpulan: Pengetahuan tentang paket manfaat dan sikap terhadap kapitasi ditemukan memberikan kontribusi terhadap kesediaan dokter gigi.

<hr>

ABSTRACT

Background: A national health insurance makes people easier to access and obtain quality health care including dental health. Dentists as the first level health service providers are expected to participate in supporting the National Health Insurance Program. Objective: To elucidate determinants of dentist willingness to become health care provider for the national health insurance. Methods: Cross-sectional study on private practice dentists using questionnaires. Data were analyzed using chi square test and logistic regression. Conclusions: Knowledge on benefit package and attitude toward capitation found to have significant contribution to dentist willingness, Background: A national health insurance makes people easier to access and obtain quality health care including dental health. Dentists as the first level health service providers are expected to participate in supporting the National Health Insurance Program. Objective: To elucidate determinants of dentist willingness to become health care provider for the national health insurance. Methods: Cross-sectional study on private practice dentists using questionnaires. Data were analyzed using chi square test and logistic regression. Conclusions: Knowledge on benefit package and attitude toward capitation found to have significant contribution to dentist willingness]