Abstrak

[Penelitian ini dilakukan untuk mendapatkan gambaran mengenai peran fear of crime terhadap hubungan collective efficacy dengan kerelawanan pada Warga Jakarta. Sebagai tambahan, penelitian ini juga dilakukan untuk melihat gambaran collective efficacy, fear of crime dan kerelawanan masyarakat Jakarta. Penelitian ini mengikutsertakan 117 warga Jakarta berumur 18-30 tahun dari setiap kotamadya DKI Jakarta, kecuali Pulau Seribu. Hasil menunjukkan bahwa kerelawanan partisipan tergolong rendah, yaitu 2-38 jam pada periode Maret-Oktober 2015. Partisipan juga mengalami fear of crime 1-2 kali dalam sebulan dan intensitas fear of crime yang sedang atau tinggi. Penelitian ini juga menemukan bahwa sebagian besar partisipan menganggap kota Jakarta nyaman untuk ditinggali, juga memiliki komunitas yang akrab, dapat diandalkan dan ramah. Hasil utama penelitian ini menunjukkan bahwa collective efficacy dan fear of crime memiliki hubungan yang tidak konsisten dengan kerelawanan.

.....This study was conducted to find the role of fear of crime in collective efficacy and volunteerism relationship in Jakarta dwellers. As additional, this study was meant to describe collective efficacy, fear of crime and volunteerism of Jakarta dwellers as well. There were 117 Jakarta dwellers, age 18-30, from all districts in Jakarta joining this study, except Pulau Seribu. Result showed that participants had not participated in volunteerism that much, it was only 2-28 hours in March-October 2015. Participants experienced fear of crime 1-2 times in the past month and moderate or very high intensity of fear of crime. However, this study found that participants in average considered Jakarta as safe and friendly community. The main result of this study shows that collective efficacy and fear of crime has inconsistent relationship with volunteerism.
