Quantitative and qualitative are used in this study, by using data from 3 Islamic bank in Indonesia in the 2004-2014. Quantitative analysis is generated through panel data regression model with Generalized Least Square (GLS) also fixed effect well as random effect and also common effect Model based on Hausman test. Qualitative analysis is used to capture description of the relationship between variables exist in the model. The result shows that; bank characteristics that appear equity to assets ratio, Cost of Efficiency and macroeconomic that appear inflation have significant effect to ROA, while ROE is only influenced by Cost of Efficiency, GDP and Inflation., This aim of this research is to analyze the profitability determinant of Islamic banks which can be seen from variable, such as; bank characteristic and macroeconomic condition.
