ABSTRACT

This research was motivated by the way of dressing of Saudi Arabian people. The men wear white thawb, meanwhile the women wear black abaya. Is this way of dressing influenced by the Islamic religion or geographical climate factors? The research data was taken from primary sources, such as books, encyclopedias, journals, interviews and direct observations. The research method used is qualitative method with study of literature approach. From the results of the discussion and analysis it can be concluded that the tradition of dressing of Saudi Arabian people adjusts its geographical climate until Islam came to improve their way of dressing.
