Universitas Indonesia Library >> UI - Tesis Membership

Global strategic alliance in Indonesian property industry : a case of joint venture and investment strategy at PT. Z

Jonathan H. Gunawan, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20439270&lokasi=lokal

Abstrak

ABSTRAK

A Joint Venture as a form of Strategic Alliance is partnership between two parties or more. They may establish either fifty-fifty or unequal equity partnership. This study is to elaborate a 50-50 or an equally equity Joint Venture process between PT. Z and a foreign investor in property development which is often viewed as a problem in voting. The purpose of this study is to elaborate a 50-50 Joint Venture procese between PT. Z, a local property developer and a foreign investor. As a guidelines a sequence process of joint venture is provided.
br>
 PT. Z is a medium sized property developer which prefers focusing on a niche market. PT. Z has operated a good quality and international standard rental apartment in South Jakarta. It is performing very well In terms of income and occupancy level. PT. Z has also acquired a parcel of land in the Jakarta?s CBD area and keeps it for future development. The shareholders of PT. Z have realized that they have a limited capital resources to build the office building. Raising a new loan will not be possible as the company has already a very high leverage. Having considered all factors by using SWOT analysis, PT. Z will use high value of the apartment to seek foreign partner who can bring new equity to the company. PT. Z offers 50% equity partnership to the incoming foreign partner.

 br>

The HIC-SEA (Holding Investment Corporation for South East Asia) is a subsidiary of a large prominent European-based multinational company. The HIC-.SEA is interested in investing in the property market in the region and will manage property portfolio in South East Asia countries including in Indonesia. The HIC-SEA is registered in Bermuda and has chosen Singapore as a regional base operation. <a href="https://doi.org/10.2016/j.japore-2016-j.japo

A summary of the joint venture process is as follows:

br>

- 1. Set-up the objective of doing joint venture

>
- 2. Do valuation of the subject properties

br>
- 3. Arrange all legal documents such as land thle, building permit, artides of association.

br>
- 4. Do feasibility study for a proposed project and/or prepare property report including investment proposal (e.g. how many percent the shares participation is offered)

 tr>>
- 5. Set-up criteria for the foreign partner(s)
 br>

- 6. Prepare the agenda for a WiN-WIN negotiation

br>
- 7. Go through the due diligent process

>
- 8. Legally binding agreement