Software application to strengthening the Organization for children malnutrition (The 2016 International Conference on Internet Technology and Data Engineering (Internet-Data 2016)

Rosa Diniari, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20448535&lokasi=lokal

----

Abstrak

ABSTRACT
Training in the form of knowledge and skills in using software to strengthening organization for children malnutrition, need software application with technical Assistants for cadres as software user which is required in organizational development. This study investigates the use of software applications by guidance to cadre for skill to use and technical assistance for software to improve performance. The method used is action research and research qualitative. The use of software by cadres are expected to provide benefits and also make adjustments to the software with existing conditions. Technical assistance activities for the cadres in accessing and analyzing information using Stakeholder Analysis. Finally cadre of skilled and adaptive use of software to collect data, analysis and solve problems as they arise. Technical Assistant executed repeatedly, until the participants are able to practice and software adaptively can be use.