Abstrak

Pekerja Kurdi telah menjadi ancaman nasional bagi negara Turki, sehingga penulisan tesis ini membahas kebijakan militer Recep Tayyip Erdoan dalam mengatasi kelompok pemberontak. Penelitian kualitatif ini menggunakan teori kebijakan yang dikemukakan oleh William Dunn, ditambah konsep keamanan dan ancaman nasional sebagai pelengkap teori. Dengan pendekatan deskriptif melalui pengambilan data dari beberapa kajian pustaka seperti penelitian terdahulu, jurnal, artikel, buku, dan informasi dari media elektronik, ditemukan hasil penelitian bahwa peningkatan intensitas dari implementasi kebijakan militer Erdoan terjadi setelah gagalnya resolusi perdamaian yang mengacu pada undang-undang dan keputusan presiden tentang pelaksanaan kebijakan keamanan nasional negara. Dengan sikap represi Erdoan melalui instrumen militernya di Suriah dan Irak, telah berdampak terhadap terganggunya stabilitas keamanan negara tetangga dan menghambat pertumbuhan ekonomi rakyat Kurdi.

.....The issue of Kurdish ethnicity was represented by the existence of Kurdistan Workers Party separatist movement that now has become Turkish nations threat. Based on that, this thesis was made to examine Recep Tayyip Erdoans military policy on overcoming it. This qualitative research was using policy theory by William Dunn, followed by security and national threat concept as the complementary. Using descriptive approach through data collection from several literature studies, such as earlier research, journal, article, books, and media electronic, generate a conclusion that the increased intensity of the implementation of Erdoans military policy occurred after the failure of peace resolution that referred to the law and presidential decree on the implementation of the national security policy of the country. Erdoans attitude on his military instrument on Syria and Iraq has caused disturbance on the stability of neighbor national security and inhibits the economic growth of Kurdish people.
