

Peran pengamatan cuaca dalam menunjang data penelitian di Kebun Raya

Arief Noor Rachmadiyanto, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20496342&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

ABSTRAK

Climate data record has very important role to support accurate scientific research presentation. Weather elements such as temperature, humidity, solar radiation affected plant growth and development, which ultimately affected plants productivity. Climate data also support phenology study, pest and disease research, as well as tree health monitoring on daily basis. In this paper two types of weather element data measurement and recording were discussed, either manual and automatic method.