This study uses the post positivist paradigm and the type of qualitative-descriptive research. Data collected through in-depth interviews, observation and documentation. The results showed several important things including, financial planning problems, community participation, low competency of village officials and TPK in financial reporting and lack of coordination and cooperation between village government and village institutions that led to the application of the village financial system (Siskeudes) that had not yet proceeded well. In addition, there are no regulations at the village level regarding deliberation at the village level which have caused delays in the establishment of village budget in Sukmajaya Village, Ragajaya Village and Bojonggede Village. Factors influencing the application of the Village Financial System (Siskeudes) in Sukmajaya Village, Ragajaya Village and Bojonggede Village are leadership, resources, commitment and communication.
