.....This research discusses the role of Adam Malik during his tenure as President of UN General Assembly from 1971-1972. The discussion begins by explaining the factors behind the election of Adam Malik as President of UN General Assembly and his role in resolving the complicated agenda of the session during his tenure. In the years 1971-1972 was a historic year for the Indonesian people in the international world. Adam Malik was elected as the first Indonesian who succeeded in occupying the chair of the 26th UN General Assembly. Adam Malik is the 8th Asian person who succeeded in holding the position as President of UN General Assembly with 119 votes out of a total of 125 votes collected. The author argues that the support from Asian countries has also been a supporting factor in the success of Adam Malik as President of UN General Assembly. The leadership characteristic that Adam Malik applied in chairing the General Assembly was putting forward "Musyawarah" to resolve problems that occurred during his tenure. Different from previous research which discusses Adam Malik in full on his political career, this research focuses on the work of Adam Malik during his tenure at the United Nations. This research uses historical research methods using primary and secondary sources such as archives, newspapers, interview transcripts, books, and journals.
