Abstrak

Hasil kegiatan ekspor sumber daya alam yang dilakukan oleh eksportir Indonesia seharusnya diwajibkan untuk membuat rekening khusus di bank devisa untuk memantau setiap penggunaan Devisa Hasil Ekspor Sumber Daya Alam (DHE SDA). Hal tersebut disebabkan Devisa Hasil Ekspor tidak ditempatkan dalam sistem keuangan Indonesia melainkan menempatkan Devisa Hasil Ekspor diluar negeri, sehingga menambah cadangan devisa negara bagi negara lain dan indonesia seringkali mengalami defisit. Eksportir yang menempatkan DHE SDA untuk pembayaran Bea keluar dan pungutan lain dibidang ekspor, pinjaman, impor, keperluan lain dari penanaman modal. Berdasarkan hasil pengawasan Bank Indonesia dan Otoritas Jasa Keuangan, jika ada eksportir yang tidak memasukkan DHE SDA dalam sistem keuangan Indonesia, maka eksportir akan mendapatkan sanksi administratif berupa denda administratif, diantaranya seperti, tidak di izinkan melakukan ekspor, pencabutan izin usaha

.....The results of natural resource export activities carried out by Indonesian exporters should be required to create a special account at the foreign exchange bank to monitor any use of the Foreign Exchange Proceeds from Natural Resources Exports (DHE SDA). This is because the Foreign Exchange Proceeds from Exports are not placed in the Indonesian financial system but instead place the Foreign Exchange Proceeds from Exports abroad, thus increasing the country's foreign exchange reserves for other countries and Indonesia often experiences a deficit. Exporters who place (DHE SDA) for the payment of export duties and other levies in the field of exports, loans, imports, other purposes of investment. Based on the results of supervision by Bank Indonesia and the Financial Services Authority, if an exporter does not include (DHE SDA) in the Indonesian financial system, the exporter will receive administrative sanctions in the form of administrative fines, such as, not being allowed to export, and revocation of business licenses.
