.....Problems related to Organizational Citizenship Behavior at Jakarta Metropolitan Police Region have influenced the effectiveness and productivity of the organization as a whole. OCB, as the results of literature review, is much influenced by work motivation, and motivation is influenced by career development and quality of work life. The study aims to examine and analyze the effect of career development and quality of work life on Organization Citizenship Behavior through work motivation as the intervening variable. The study involves 361 respondents from several operational directorates of Jakarta Metropolitan Police Region. They are proportionally chosen by cluster random sampling from each directorate. The author employs the path analysis with SEM technique in order to examine the direct and indirect effects of each variable. The results show that the perception of Jakarta Metropolitan Police Region personnel on the variables studied is high. However, there are differences in the value of each variable in each work unit: career development has a positive and significant effect on work motivation; quality of work life has a positive and significant effect on work motivation; career development has a positive and significant effect on OCB; work motivation can significantly mediate the effect of career development on OCB; quality of work life has a positive and significant effect on OCB; work motivation can significantly mediate the effect of quality of work life on OCB and work motivation has a positive and significant effect on OCB. The author recommends a further research in other locations as well as more respondents in order to obtain more comprehensive and complete information on factors influencing OCB of police personnel.
