Abstrak

Halal lifestyle meluas dari sektor makanan ke sektor non-food. Beberapa produk non-food menjadi pelopor sebagai ‘produk bersertifikasi halal pertama’ dalam kategorinya. Penelitian ini melihat attitude dan purchase intention terhadap halal branding pada produk non-food, dengan menggunakan theory of reasoned action. Penelitian kuantitatif ini diuji pada wanita milenial melalui survei online dan LISREL dengan Structural Equational Model (SEM). Model ini menilai pengaruh religiosity, knowledge, subjective norm, dan product quality terhadap attitude; serta pengaruh attitude terhadap purchase intention. Hasilnya menunjukkan efek signifikan pada attitude terhadap purchase intention, juga efek signifikan pada hubungan antara religiosity, subjective norm, dan product quality terhadap attitude

.....The Halal lifestyle's prominence extends from food to non-food sectors. Some non-food products become the pioneers as 'First Halal-Certified' in their category.
