Abstrak

The increasing number of cyber attacks that occur today indicates that Indonesia is an easy target for crime actors in the cyber world. Cyber attacks are selected because they are far more effective than conventional attacks - the military, and the actors are also invisible. Not to mention, the capacity of cyber handling, both infrastructure, funds, and human resources in Indonesia is inversely proportional compared to the number of cyber attacks in the last decade. Intelligence strategies, primarily counter-intelligence, isthe answer to deter and detect the attacks,while the government fixing the regulations and policies of national cyber threats.
