Title : Afiks-afiks Bahasa Indonesia dalam Friendster

This thesis is about Indonesian affixes which appear on Friendster with Indonesian. Indeed the informal language used on Friendster has impacts on the behaviors of the affixes. Hence, this project also describes the behaviors the affixes which appear on Friendster as one of the sources of Indonesian informal language, especially from the aspects of types, frequency, functions, type's combinations and roots. From the described behaviors, some similarities and differences are found by comparing these behaviors with the ones already explained on Indonesian grammatical textbooks.
